

POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

This nation, though it may experience serious reverses and rough going for a time, will ultimately win a complete victory over its treacherous Axis enemies. Of that the American people are supremely confident. There is no defeatism in the United States about the outcome of the war.

But will the American way of life survive the war? Will it come through the ordeal unscathed and unchanged, as it has through other conflicts and upheavals which have marked the growth of a great nation? Or will America lose the war on its home front while winning its battle on the seven seas?

In short, will this country emerge in the post-war period under state socialism, or some other alien system imported from foreign shores?

Such are the questions that are troubling earnest, thinking Americans in every walk of life — and not without cause!

The war abroad has not stopped the termites from boring from within; quite to the contrary. Already a determined attempt has been made to introduce into the defense program the Communistic idea of workers' committees to control management and production. The OPM, thus far, has rejected the plan, but the CIO, which proposed it, is still busily trying to scare up support for its program to have joint labor and industry committees formed to take over the job of converting plant facilities for war work.

The demand for the Communistic scheme went so far that even Sidney Hillman, labor co-chairman of the OPM, joined with William Knudsen in rejecting it. And C. E. Wilson, a member of the subcommittee of the general management-labor committee, denounced it as a brazen attempt at "socialization" of American industry which, he said, would "destroy the very foundation upon which America's unparalleled record of industrial accomplishment had been built."

But the plan to give workers' committees "a voice in management" without accepting any of the obligations which go with management and ownership—such as paying the losses—is only one of many attacks which must be warded off if the American system of free enterprise is to be maintained as an integral bulwark of American democracy. Public power enthusiasts have already indicated that they intend to take advantage of the war situation in an effort to have the government take over the whole power industry. Other public ownership zealots would like to take over the railroad industry, the trucks, banks and all communications facilities. And still others would like to use the war as an excuse to give the government monopolistic control over the production and sale of all foods and other "essential commodities."

At the end of that trail, of course, lies state socialism—government control of every man's business and every man's job!

But the fact that America

RAID WARDENS MEET TONIGHT

There will be a meeting of all the air raid wardens, first aid wardens, auxiliary firemen and auxiliary police who have been assigned to various positions at Campbell Union High school tonight, Jan. 22, at 7 o'clock p. m.

The meeting is being called for the purpose of fingerprinting these men, and also to give them certain instructions and information that has come to local authorities. Pictures will be taken of those who did not have their pictures taken at a previous meeting.

Identification arm bands have arrived in the county civilian defense office and will be given out as soon as the above noted information is on file in the county office.

The men who have been selected as wardens, firemen, policemen and first aiders have been chosen very carefully. It is the purpose of the authorities to see that men in civilian defense work are a credit to the organization. It is their desire that there be complete harmony and cooperation between all the residents of our community and these men who have volunteered their services to help safeguard the lives and property of our citizens.

The Campbell Civilian Defense council respectfully requests that only properly certified defense workers assume the responsibility of notifying people of a breach in blackout regulations.

Ballet Russe Is Next Concert Series Offering

The welcome announcement that the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo will be brought to San Jose by the San Jose series is the exciting concert news of the moment. The famous Russian ballet will play in the civic auditorium Monday evening, Feb. 2, with its company of 125, including a symphony orchestra. The production will be exactly the same as opened in New York City in October.

It is expected that "Nutcracker," "The New Yorker" and "Gaite Parisienne" will be the program shown, starring the inimitable Tamara Toumanova, Alexandra Danilova, Youskevitch, Frederick Franklin and many others.

With its special train, its car loads of specially designed scenery, its thousands of costumes and its beautiful ballerinas, the Ballet Russe is one of the greatest organizations in the world, the most spectacular and lavish in existence outside of grand opera.

Tickets for the Ballet Russe are on sale at the auditorium box office. Telephone Columbia 7087.

New Rules Affect All Nationals of Axis

SCOUTS HOLD HONOR COURT

A court of honor was held by the local Boy Scout troop 28 Thursday evening, Jan. 15 at which first and second class awards and merit badges were given.

The following named tenderfoot scouts were accepted into the troop with an investiture ceremony: Lowell Grat-tan, Franklin Livingston, Junior Gayet, Stanley Flecker, Henry Brown and Jim Cunningham.

Church Men's Club Sponsoring Defense Meet

The Men's club of the Congregational church is sponsoring a civilian defense meeting tomorrow (Friday) evening at the church, beginning with supper at 6:30 for members and 25 defense leaders as guests.

Promptly at 7:30 there will be a meeting for all defense workers, and others interested, at which the San Jose Fire department will show a film of the London bombing and the lessons to be learned from it.

W. H. Van Dyke will preside as chairman, and Supervisor J. M. McKinnon will speak, and an opportunity will be afforded for questions.

Concluding the meeting, a film of the Pearl Harbor bombing will be shown by Harry Rich.

The January Birthday Club Celebrates

Mrs. J. E. Badger of Plummer avenue entertained the January Birthday club of Sunnyoaks district with a luncheon Jan. 12, at the Garden House on The Alameda. The ladies regretted very much that Mrs. D. H. Cramer, one of the original group, could not be present because of her recent illness.

This was the 22nd anniversary of the birthday club and the yearly gathering is most enjoyable. A delicious luncheon was followed by a social period.

Members present were the Mesdames Badger, J. J. Pardee, F. W. Mitchell, Rose Hanger, M. E. Purmort, all of Campbell, Mrs. Clara Williams and Mrs. Fannie Webb of San Jose.

Guests were Mrs. J. K. Tate of San Jose and Mrs. B. O. Curry and Mrs. M. E. Mumma of Campbell.

The following item is published in response to an urgent request from the Department of Justice, Washington, D. C., that the information be as widely publicized as possible.—Ed.

Attorney General Francis Biddle today announced new regulations affecting the conduct of German, Italian and Japanese nationals throughout continental United States.

The new regulations, issued under authority of the Presidential proclamation of Jan. 14, 1942, relating to alien enemies, require all German, Italian and Japanese aliens to apply for a certificate of identification. The requirement applies to all enemy nationals 14 years of age or over who have not yet taken the oath of allegiance before a federal judge, the final step in acquiring American citizenship.

The regulations provide for two separate periods for the submitting of applications for identity certificates, as follows:

All German, Italian and Japanese nationals residing in the states of California, Oregon, Washington, Nevada, Arizona, Montana, Utah and Idaho are required to file applications at the nearest first or second class, or county seat, post office between Feb. 2 and Feb. 7, 1942, inclusive.

Failure to comply with the new regulations may be punished by severe penalties, including possible internment of the enemy alien for the duration of the war.

The regulations require enemy aliens, in applying for identification certificates, to provide a photograph of themselves (to be attached to the identity card) and to answer a number of questions concerning their current activities. Printed directions for the filing of applications will shortly be available at post offices.

The regulations provide that after a careful check has been made of each applicant, the applicant will be provided with a certificate of identification bearing his photograph, index fingerprint and signature. He will thereafter be required to carry the certificate with him at all times.

The attorney general said, "The objective in issuing identification certificates to aliens of enemy nationalities is the dual one of strengthening our internal safety and protecting the loyal alien, even if he has become technically an alien enemy."

BASKETBALL BROADCASTS

Saturday night, 8:15, KLLX, U. C. vs Santa Clara.

Next Tuesday, 8 p. m., station KROW, St. Mary's vs. San Jose State, and U. C. vs University of San Francisco.

CLUBMEN HEAR ABOUT THE USO

Rev. H. H. Powell of the First Christian church of Los Gatos talked before the local Kiwanis club Tuesday on the United Service Organizations. He explained that the main purpose of the U.S.O. is to keep the recreational life of the soldiers clean.

There were five visiting members in attendance.

Next week Gilbert Taggart of San Jose, co-director of the United States Department of Agriculture, will be the guest speaker, and his topic: "Agriculture's Part In the National Defense Program." The program was arranged by the club's committee of agriculture, and S. N. Hedegard will be chairman of the day.

J. E. Murdock, president, and Lowell Benson, secretary of the Campbell club, will go to Bakersfield to attend the California-Nevada district training conference for club presidents and secretaries, to be held in that city Friday and Saturday of this week.

More Donate to Special Fund

The following names have been added to the list of subscribers for providing sanitary facilities at the fire house for the wardens and firemen now on 24-hour attendance to receive air raid and black-out warnings, if they come:

Ira H. Grim, Lowell J. Benson, Dr. W. I. Merrill, Abe Klassen, Bert Burda, Grover A. Carpenter, M. J. Patrick, Martin S. Walsh, Campbell chapter Prune & Apricot Growers, Campbell Cooperative Dehydrator, T. A. Cutting, Archie Keesling, David Rutherford, W. G. Smily, Dr. W. R. Morgan, B. B. Botts.

A small building has been erected, sewer connections made, and plumbing is being installed.

William R. Wardwell, who has been responsible for collecting the funds, wants it clearly understood that the money is all expended by a committee consisting of Frank Blaine, Jack Scott and Ethan Lanphear, all of whose signatures appear on the checks.

Catala Lectures Discontinued

The Catala club of Santa Clara wishes at this time to announce that for the time being its weekly Thursday morning lectures will be discontinued due to the fact that so many of its local members and friends who regularly attend are devoting their time and services to the various community and national activities so necessary in the interest of defense.

Miss Geraldine Lloyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Lloyd, was one of the Stanford girls who was a sorority pledge on Saturday night as a member of Alpha Omicron Pi.

Local Co-op Board Okays Expansion

The 1942 board of directors of the Campbell Cooperative dehydrator in their first meeting of the year granted G. K. Schrader, manager, permission to go on with the present plan for building expansion if and when priority can be obtained. Two new units have been scheduled, but orders for aluminum fans have been in since last March and are still unfilled, Schrader said.

About two weeks ago government officials inspected the plant as to the possibility of dehydrating vegetables for army and lease-lend use. The officials stated that they were simply an investigating committee, that their findings would be reported to Washington and any official action would come from there.

So far nothing further has been heard in the matter, but if a government contract should be forthcoming, the priority for needed materials would undoubtedly be given.

At present there are 20 drying tunnels with a capacity of 200,000 pounds of prunes daily, which is the only commodity that has been handled.

To handle vegetables, equipment for washing, blanching, peeling, shredding, and other operations would be necessary.

The board consists of Stanley B. Smith, president; Merwyn S. Keesling, vice president; Robert Scholz, secretary, E. K. Clendening and J. V. Gomes.

Buccaneers Trim Live Oak Acorns

Campbell high ran wild to defeat an outclassed Live Oak five at Morgan Hill Friday, Jan. 16, by the score of 55-19. The Buc quintet scored almost at will in the defeat of the Acorns. The score at the end of the half was 39-9, and had not Coach Noddin sent in all of his reserves to the last man, the score might have been still higher. "Long John" Williams found the range to lead the scoring with 14 points.

The members of the Acorn '30 team made a better showing than their big brothers, losing 27-16. Kerlin Morgan, the most consistent player at Campbell high, tanked 12 points to head the lightweight scoring.

The high-flying Campbell quintets will meet Fremont's Indians in a twin bill at 2:30 Friday in the local gym.

The 30's are favored to keep their undefeated record clean by taking this one in stride.

The varsity game is a toss-up, with Campbell holding a slight edge, due to their scoring spree last week.

League records to date find the 30's victorious in their first three starts, while the varsity has won two, dropping a close one to San Jose Tech, 21-20.

Letters from Home

THE proposal that Congress grant to soldiers, sailors and marines on duty overseas free use of the mails in writing home is a commendable plan. But it doesn't touch upon the really serious problem of the mails, as lonely boys at war know it. That problem is the constant shortage in personal letters from home. Frank M. Veale, United Service Organizations club director at San Luis Obispo, stated the case in a recent appeal through the press:

"In these days of strain and stress our boys in the service of our country are not apt to write many letters, but they do crave to get them. Last week I heard of one of the boys of the 40th Division who during his eight months in camp had not received a letter. Finally he did get a letter from a lady for whom he had once worked. It so affected him that he broke down and cried. One of the greatest ways to strengthen the morale of the men in the armed forces is to keep them reminded that the people at home are interested in them.

"I know that thousands upon thousands of letters will be written and never answered; but we should keep up a constant barrage of cheering letters to these men who are now literally on the firing line."

Free postage should be granted those faraway fighting men, by all means. But the paramount need, until the boys come home, will remain a steady, cheery, generous flood of personal letters from home.

Justice to "Billy" Mitchell

IN 1934, Brigadier General William Mitchell, in defiance of his superiors who dogmatically held that the next war would be fought as the first World war was fought—on land and water, warned this nation:

"Air power can destroy navies. Furthermore, it will be difficult, if not impossible, to build any type of vessel of sufficient strength to withstand the destructive force that can be obtained with the largest bombs that airplanes may be able to carry from shore bases or sheltered harbors."

For that defiance, "Billy" Mitchell was drummed out of the army.

But Germany believed him, and Japan believed him—and because they believed him and America and Britain didn't, the curse of aggression now menaces the world.

It is good that America, through Congressional action, has restored Mitchell's good name—good for the people, good for a chastened army. Posthumously, Mitchell has been elevated to the rank of major general. That might please the doughty patriot, could he look back to life—but far more pleasing to him would be America's swift, if dangerously belated, program to regain mastery of the world's air in the name of American freedom.

February 1!

THE fast approaching day of Feb. 1 should bear with it a warning. Then the federal use tax, amounting to $2.09 on every motor vehicle, falls due. Payment is to be made at post offices.

In more leisurely days, Uncle Sam would have waited for the beginning of the new fiscal year before imposing a new tax. But these are not leisurely days. They are as grimly serious as any the nation has known. Funds to support, in part, the nation's gigantic war effort are urgent. That's the why and wherefore of the revenue stamps owners of the nation's 32 million motor vehicles must purchase by Feb. 1. Remember this date with Uncle Sam. He needs your help. You need his.

Mostly on the Ground Floor

By IRVIN S. COBB

ON his last annual visit to his old home in Alabama, Colonel Bozeman Bulger met a husky young negro, whom he remembered as a ragged pickaninny. Having spent more than a year with the A. E. F. overseas, Bulger had a natural interest in military matters. He asked the darkey what service he had seen.

"I didn't git into de army at all," said the negro. "That's surprising," said Bulger. "You're one of the huskiest looking specimens I've seen in a long while. Even if you didn't volunteer I should have thought that the draft would have caught you."

"De draft did ketch me, but dey didn't keep me. De genelman whut zaminid me he let me go ag'in."

"What reason did he give?"

"Well, suh, after he done look me ovah he sort of laff an' say he reckined 'twouldn't be no satisfaction to de Germans to shoot me; an' he tole me to grab my hat an' git out of dere."

"What were his exact words?"

"Well, suh, near ez I kin rekollect he say dat my feet was so big an' flat dat even if I did git shot I wouldn't fall ovah."

INCOME TAX INFORMATION

The Revenue Act of 1941 provides a simplified method of computing income tax in the case of individuals whose gross income is derived wholly from salary, wages or other compensation for personal services, dividends, interest, rent, annuities, or royalties, and does not exceed $3,000. A new Form 1040A has been provided for taxpayers who are entitled to and elect to use such method. A table on the reverse side of this form shows the amount of tax on increasing amounts of gross income after the proper allowance of $400 for each dependent, if any.

The tax under the simplified method is the same for each $25 block of gross income and the taxpayer need only ascertain in which block his gross income (less allowance for dependents) falls to determine his tax. A flat reduction of ten percent has been made in arriving at the amount of tax shown in the table for deductions such as charitable contributions and taxes paid, so that the taxpayer who uses this method does not list these but gets an automatic deduction of ten percent.

Under the simplified method the status of a person on the last day of the taxable year is the governing factor in determining the exemption level ($750 for single persons and married persons not living with husband or wife, and $1,500 for married persons living together) as well as the credit for dependents.

Mrs. J. E. Murdock and children went to Orange Cove Tuesday to visit her mother, Mrs. Nora McCord. They will return Sunday accompanied by Murdock and Lowell Benson.

A husband and wife living together on the last day of the taxable year may file separate returns on Form 1040A if the gross income of each is from the prescribed sources and does not exceed $3,000, or they may file a single joint return on that form if their combined income is from the prescribed sources and does not exceed $3,000.

The use of the simplified method is optional with the taxpayer but once an election has been made for any year, it is irrevocable for that year. If a taxpayer files a return under the simplified method for the taxable year he may not thereafter file a return under the general provisions of the law for that year. Conversely, if he files a return under the provisions for any taxable year, he may not thereafter file a return under the simplified method for that year. However, a new election is allowed for each succeeding taxable year.

Calif. Maritime Academy Exams Set for Jan. 24

Dr. Walter F. Dexter, state director of education, announces that due to the emergency and the acute shortage of trained officers for the U. S. merchant marine and the U. S. Naval Reserve, the California Maritime academy will hold an early entrance examination in Los Angeles and San Francisco on Saturday, Jan. 24. This examination is being held at the request of federal authorities who have urged the academy to enroll as many cadets as training facilities will permit.

The period of training has been reduced from three years to 22 months. All cadets are enrolled in the U. S. Naval Reserve and during the course of instruction are deferred from service in the draft.

Graduates receive a license as a third officer in the merchant marine and a commission as an ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve. The demand for such officers far exceeds the supply and all graduates are assured immediate employment at attractive pay.

Tuition is free but there is a charge of approximately $350 a year which covers part cost of food, lodging, uniforms, books and incidentals.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Leo Veal, 41 Rincon avenue, a daughter, Helen Joyce, Saturday, Jan. 17, at O'Connor sanitarium.

Candidates must have a high school education and be between the age of 17 and 23. Further information may be secured by writing the Secretary, California Maritime Academy, 515 Van Ness ave., San Francisco.

"God shall send forth his mercy and his truth." These words from Psalms comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, Jan. 25, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. The subject of the lesson-sermon will be "Truth."

Included among the scriptural selections will be: "Thomas saith unto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest; and how can we know the way? Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but me," (John 14: 5, 6).

The service will also include readings from the Christian Science textbook.

THE BOOK MARK

by marty

Pied Piper by Nevil Shute.

Nevil Shute, echoing reports of many reviewers, is an artist when it comes to story telling. Reading this book is like listening to the author tell the story himself. It is one of the easiest books to read that has come this way in many months. It has suspense, thrills and an oversupply of interest.

John Howard, the leading character and hero of the story, is a gentleman of London, some 70 years of age. His many offers of service in the war were rejected because of his years. He became restless and decided to take a trip. With his fishing tackle, he ran off to his favorite waters—the Jura mountains in France. It was the middle of April 1940 when he arrived at the hotel in the mountains, and for some six weeks he greatly enjoyed himself. He made acquaintance with an English family, Mrs. Cavanagh and her two children. Mr. Cavanagh was a representative to the League of Nations in Geneva and came only occasionally to the hotel to visit with his family.

Through May John Howard enjoyed his fishing jaunts and visits with the other guests, but when the terrible episode of Dunkirk reached his ears he made up his mind to go back to England. He felt he should be on his home soil—perhaps there might be some task that he could do. When word got around that he was going to make the trip back to London, Mr. Cavanagh came to him and asked if he would consider taking his two small children to London with him and leave them with his sister for the duration of the war. Mr. Howard hesitated but a short moment before accepting the responsibility. At last he could be of some service to his people! He would take the risk and take the children!

Soon after their departure from the mountain resort France was invaded, and the travelers' troubles began. But to say more now would only spoil the book for you. After you have read it you will not wonder any longer how it reached the enviable position of the "top" of the list of the most popular books today.

Red Cross Fund Quota Still Short

G. E. Farley reports that the first tabulation of contributions by subscription and collections from the jars located throughout the district is approximately $600.

The response from the various organizations has been very encouraging, but much more is needed from individuals to reach the goal of $2,000 set for this district.

As the war progresses the Red Cross will be called upon for increasingly greater help for the armed forces and civilian casualties and evacuees.

Mrs. Milton Herold returned today from Marysville, where she has been helping her father transact business.

"Alaska" Topic Of Women At Club Monday

Mrs. Dana Thomas was guest speaker at the Monday meeting of the Country Woman's club, Campbell. Mrs. Thomas lived for many years in Kotzebue, Alaska and told of her experiences while there as a missionary wife. She discussed the geography, climate, resources and people of that frigid country. "The northern lights were beyond description," said Mrs. Thomas. She displayed clothing and household implements, showing the primitive methods used by these people. In closing she stated, "When we arrived in Kotzebue there were 100 Christians. When we left, there were 1000."

Mrs. Sue Boyce displayed lovely photographs loaned by Ed Levin, who has accompanied Father Bernard Hubbard on his trips to Alaska.

The assembled ladies joined in several patriotic songs under the leadership of Mrs. Ralph Hyde. Mrs. Anna Klansen accompanied the singing at the piano.

In contrast with the frigid zone topic of discussion for the day, the club room was tastefully decorated with delicate spring blossoms and lilies. These flowers were from the garden of Mrs. Florine Peake.

The committee in charge of the program included Mrs. Howard J. Smith, chairman; Mrs. J. B. Strong, Mrs. Sue Boyce, Mrs. L. A. Saunders, Mrs. W. W. Sibley, Mrs. L. J. Campodonico, and Mrs. W. S. Smeed.

Mrs. G. E. Jeffers, president, conducted the business meeting preceding the program. It was decided that "men's night" will be omitted this year because so many of the club members must attend night defense classes. Instead there will be a regular afternoon meeting on Feb. 2, with Mrs. Hyde in charge of the program.

It was also decided that refreshments at the "birthday tea" Feb. 16 be omitted and this money given to the Red Cross.

Special Meeting Of Tuberculosis Association 23rd

The board of directors of the Santa Clara County Tuberculosis association plans to hold a special meeting at noon on Friday, Jan. 23, Hotel De Anza, San Jose. A special election is scheduled, as well as a final report of the results of the 1941 Christmas Seal sale.

Selection of a president-elect will be made to take the place of William H. Jilbert, Palo Alto, who is resigning because of ill health. Jilbert has been a member of the board of directors for the past two years, as well as a member of the executive committee. He was to have taken office as president April 1, to succeed Robert B. Kennedy of San Jose.

Assemblyman M. G. Del Mutolo will address Orchard City Grange next Tuesday evening, Jan. 27, at the lecture hour, about 8:45. His subject will be "Legislation and the Special Session." Visitors may attend during the lecture period.

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR
Executive Secretary
Agricultural Council of California

Turn back the pages of memory to days of the first World war and you will doubtless recall that now almost forgotten world — Hooverizing!

In millions of American kitchens, housewives learned how to Hooverize. Sugar was rationed carefully. White flour was used even more sparingly and American citizens learned, almost for the first time, that rough, dark breads were both palatable and healthful. Scores of substitutes—actually new foods—popped up on America's menu.

As talk of shortages increased and a hungry, fighting world cried out for food from American fields, this nation's agricultural plant stepped up production at an ever increasing tempo. Millions of acres of grass lands were used for the first time for cultivated crops. Long-idle acres were planted. Flower gardens were sacrificed and vegetables were planted. And American agriculture finally brought its production to the point where it was nearly capable of feeding the whole civilized world.

After that hectic era, when men laid down their arms and returned to tilling the fields in battle-scarred Europe, the farmer reaped the whirlwind. Prices crashed; tremendous surpluses piled up in warehouses; crops rotted in the field for want of buyers. Agriculture has never actually recovered from the economic shock of that boom-bust cycle. The depression, in large part, was born of it. And today, as we again step up production to meet the abnormal demands of war-time, it is to be hoped that by careful, intelligent planning—and by profiting from the experiences of the last war—a repetition of that post-war disaster can be averted.

Certain basic facts might well be stated at this time—and kept constantly in mind.

America, with its vast agricultural plant, need have no fear of food shortages in this war, even with the increased demands resulting from shipments to our allies, except in a few instances where the country is dependent on imports.

There is absolutely no excuse for hoarding. The housewife who rushes to her grocer and buys up half his stock of canned foods, or any other kind of food, is simply yielding to hysteria. And hysteria is much more dangerous to this nation than enemy bombs.

As time goes on, there may be—in fact doubtless will be—rationing of some commodities, but the rationing will probably apply more to industrial fuels and materials than to food products.

Again, farmers should keep in mind Secretary of Agriculture Wickard's statement that even though the goals for 1942 call for the largest production on the farm in the history of American agriculture, it will not be necessary materially to increase total crop acreage.

It should be remembered that this country entered the war period with large surpluses of many farm products—surpluses which can now be

High School Defense Group Names Officers

The civilian defense organization at Campbell high, organized for emergency duties of any kind in and around the Campbell area, began first aid training under Harold Drummond Tuesday.

In a previous meeting the boys selected Herbert Hudson as chief. Officers elected include Jack Smith, captain; Dan Clark, Bob Wheeler, lieutenants; Jack McCarthy, Dave Anderson, Carl Field, Joe Prestigiacomo, Ray Mathis, Eugene Boston, sergeants. The rest of the group are corporals serving in crews under their sergeants.

Girls also are being prepared for the emergency with first aid classes each Monday and Wednesday after school. These classes are under the sponsorship of the American Red Cross.

Boys' groups will study first aid Tuesdays and Thursdays at 3:30.

Local Matmen Win Medals

Although competing with schools with enrollments like San Jose high and Salinas high, Campbell high's wrestling team showed itself well on the whole at the Northern California senior tournament held in San Jose Saturday, Jan. 17.

The final score was overwhelmingly in favor of San Jose high, northern California's championship wrestling team. Campbell wound up in a three way tie for second place with Santa Clara and San Jose Tech.

The score: San Jose, 32; Santa Clara 13; Tech, 13; Campbell 13; Sequoia, 6; Salinas, 3.

The northern California champions, class by class, are: 95—Wada, Campbell; 105—Capt. Uchiyama, Campbell; 115—Shimada, Santa Clara; 125—Johnston, San Jose; 135—Ensign, Tech; 145—Miser, Santa Clara; 155—Plummer, San Jose (Johnson, Campbell, 2nd); 165—Rutherford, San Jose Tech; 175—De Luca, San Jose; 185—Rayner, Tech; unlimited, Gorham, San Jose (Wilson, Campbell, 2nd).

Mentor Hudson's team will travel to Redwood City for a dual meet this Friday.

utilized. And another important factor to be recalled is that the replacement of horse power with mechanical power on farms has made available approximately 35 million acres of tilled soil for the production of food and fibre for human consumption. This was formerly needed to produce feed crops for horses and mules. In addition, approximately 40 million acres of newly-plowed land, resulting from the first World war, are available for crop production. The total of these two amounts has added about 75 million acres to the area available for production of crops for market—equal to about one-fifth of all land in the United States now planted to crops.

American agriculture, then, has a plant fully equal to the emergency. And American farmers can be depended upon to produce the commodities required of them, even with all the labor problems and other difficulties which may beset them during a war period.

Uncle Sam Farmers' Best Customer; 30 Marketing Centers Established

Uncle Sam, the American farmer's best individual customer, spends $750,000 a day every day in the year on foodstuffs for his army.

To afford the best possible facilities in handling these immense sales, it is announced that 30 regional marketing centers are being established throughout the country where producers may sell direct or through community or farm co-operatives. In this manner the Quartermaster Corps bought 750 tons of turkey together with all the trimmings for the soldiers' Thanksgiving dinner, and just now Uncle Sam is stocking up for the Christmas holidays and all the hearty meals that will come in between.

Through the marketing centers it is declared that Uncle Sam and the millions of American farmers will get better acquainted. Uncle Sam will get fresh produce of the highest quality and the farmers will get higher prices. An example of the volume of goods taken by the army is reported in recent requisitions for rations during the autumn maneuvers in the Carolinas where the purchases in Columbia and Wellington marketing centers included: 2,600,000 dozen of eggs, 1,600,000 pounds of butter, 420,000 pounds of cheese, 315,000 pounds of turkey and 704,000 pounds of chicken.

At the same time a program has been announced for the purchase of a large part of the seasonal output of local canneries, smaller industries situated in the various fruit and vegetable growing regions. These district purchases will augment the recent buying of 126,000,000 cans of vegetables through the Chicago Quartermaster Depot.

Of the 50,000 horses and mules doing their bit in the army the great majority of these equine recruits were brought from the farms within the last few months, the purchases amounting to $239,372. The spring program calls for a still greater number of riding horses and draught animals.

From all sections of the country come reports that Uncle Sam's marketbasket is a symbol of prosperity on the farm.

Orchestra Is Complimented

The local Kiwanis club appreciated and enjoyed the orchestra concert given last Tuesday by Campbell high's orchestra. A letter from the club:

"To the members of the high school orchestra:

Thanks a million for one of the most enjoyable musical treats we at the Campbell Kiwanis club have ever had. You have a wonderful organization and we appreciate your efforts. Your organization is a wonderful credit to your instructor, your school and the town of Campbell. Keep up the good work.

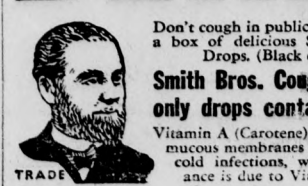

Sincerely,
Jack Murdock, Pres.
L. J. Benson, Secty.

Instructor McDonell read the letter to the orchestra and remarked that a word of praise now and then is an incentive to "carry on" and work even more diligently. He also warned orchestra members not to purchase larger sized hats, "for there is still room for improvement."

High Majorettes In Good Form

In spite of weather which has not permitted much out-of-doors marching practice, the five majorettes of Campbell high: Dennise Bushnell, Nadine Smith, Veryl Logan, Margaret Reese, and Beverly Suess, have been practicing formations, drills, and twirling exercises at their homes, and at noon in the auditorium.

The result has been most gratifying. The five are now able to execute a very interesting drill exhibition that should put them in a class with the best. Considering that all the girls, with the exception of Nadine Smith, were novices at the beginning of the term, they deserve a lot of credit.

BLACKOUT
with cheerful light

From time to time, within certain areas, there are going to be alarms that call for blackouts. All such alarms call for serious BLACKOUTS. That means EVERY HOME or BUILDING MUST BE BLACK OUTSIDE. No beckoning finger of light should be visible to air raid wardens or the enemy.

Many alarms may come in daylight. But when alarms come at night, there should be no sitting in the dark for an hour or so. Black-out and keep lights on. Schools are carrying on just the same and home work must be completed. Knitting socks or mending clothes will grow to be more and more vital parts of defense material conservation. News of the day will be read more carefully. There is going to be less and less gadding about in the family auto.

Keep spirits up by carrying on with cheerful light. Use modern softly-diffused lighting. Do away with glaring light. Install and buy modern lighting that is cheerful and easy on the eyes. There is no shortage yet of better lighting fixtures and lamps. Equip your home now with modern eye-saving light.

PIN-IT-UP

This is a handy portable type of light that is ideal for black-out rooms. Plug it in and hang it up like a picture on the wall.

DINING-ROOM

Are your dining room lights bright and glaring as candles? Cut off that glare and have better light from a modern fixture that throws soft pleasing light down on the table.

KITCHEN

Many homes are fixing the kitchen to be light proof outside. Install a modern kitchen lighting unit that assures appetites will be satisfied on regular meal times.
